Board of Governors meeting of March 26, 2015

Preparing for the future

The board meeting of March 26 focused in large part on moving forward with current projects, and meeting future goals.

Governors wish Registrar Shawna Garrett well as she departs for new opportunities

Governors congratulate the newly elected Executive of SUNSCAD, and were particularly pleased to hear that there was increased interest in serving in this capacity among the student body.

Committees continue to move business forward, especially on the fronts of the Enterprise Risk Management project, the Architectural Design project and the upcoming budget.

Governors continue to examine their governance structure, sending two questions of internal procedure to the Governance and Human Resources committee for closer examination.

Finally, governors are anticipating the opportunity to discuss long range plans for the university at an upcoming retreat.

It is an exciting time at NSCAD, with a broad and bright future to consider.
