

The Division of Media Arts at NSCAD University invites applications for a Tenure Track/Tenured Position at the rank of Assistant or Associate Professor in Expanded Media.

NSCAD University is in Mi'kma'ki, on the ancestral and unceded territory of the Mi'kmaq Nation. NSCAD University has committed to reconciliation and to establishing respectful ongoing relationships with Indigenous peoples.

As part of NSCAD's ongoing development of anti-racist practices and the dismantling of oppressive institutional structures, this opportunity is restricted to applicants who identify as Indigenous, Black, a person of colour, or as a member of a racialized group.

The successful candidate will engage with the critical discourses of expanded media, and will have expertise in contemporary tools, technologies and practices. We seek applicants that will offer expertise across a range of media art practices that might include video, sound, installation, performance, interactive digital media, physical computing, gaming, locative media, virtual reality, or animation. We seek applicants with a demonstrated record of successful post-secondary teaching and innovative pedagogical approaches in interacting with a diverse student body. The successful candidate will be engaged with research-creation, and have the ability to contribute to areas of study in expanded media through local, national and international exhibitions, community engagements and/or activist contexts for diverse publics. Successful applicants will demonstrate the potential to make a major impact in expanded media in Canada and internationally. All media artist practitioners are invited to apply.

The successful candidate will enhance inter-institutional collaborations in artistic, technological, pedagogical and research-creation practices, and bring expertise and experience in partnering with diverse communities, disciplines, and programs. Teaching will be in the BFA and MFA program.

We seek a colleague who will join us in this journey of respectful engagement in developing research and practice directly relevant to and in relationship with communities, and in forming the goals and future directions of Media Arts at NSCAD University.

Criteria for the position:

- A terminal degree or equivalent professional experience in Media Arts or closely related discipline before the time of appointment.
- An active, original, innovative record of expanded media practices and an articulated vision for its future directions.
- Lived experience of advocacy, activism and social justice work with historically excluded and racialized groups.
- Demonstrated track record of exhibitions, publications and/or conference presentations.
- Record of successful post-secondary teaching.
- Commitment to integrate appropriate technologies, resources, and materials into studio and classroom contexts.

- Potential for establishing and sustaining national and international collaborations.
- Potential for attracting and mentoring graduate students.

Additional information about Faculty and Librarians at NSCAD are governed by the provisions of the Collective Agreement (FUNSCAD Unit 1).

The anticipated start date for this position is July 1, 2022.

Application materials should include:

- a cover letter providing an overview of the candidate's qualifications and how they fulfill the above-listed criteria
- A research/artist statement (1-2 pages)
- A curriculum vitae
- A portfolio of 15-20 images representing applicant's current work
- A teaching dossier that documents the applicant's experience in and approach to training diverse students, and teaching effectiveness.

Candidates are asked to submit application materials as a single PDF document. Questions regarding the position can be addressed to Dr. Ann-Barbara Graff, Vice-President (Academic & Research) and Provost at abgraff@nscad.ca. Please submit your application as attachments to an e-mail sent to: emacondald@nscad.ca. Application Deadline: February 18, 2022.

We welcome applications from non-Canadians but in accordance with Canadian Immigration requirements, Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority. NSCAD University invites and encourages applications from all qualified individuals, including individuals within the employment equity categories of women, persons with disabilities, members of visible minorities, aboriginal persons, individuals of diverse gender and sexual orientation and all groups protected by the Human Rights Code.

We encourage members of equity and diversity-seeking groups to self-identify within their letter of intent in their application. NSCAD University recognizes the legitimate impact that leaves (maternity leave, leave due to illness) can have on a candidate's record of research achievement and that these leaves will be taken into consideration during the assessment process.

Ashley Lorette (humanresources@nscad.ca), the Director of Human Resources, can address requests for accommodations (to accommodate candidates with hearing impairments, mobility restrictions, etc.).
